To Whom It May Concern

Dear To Whom It May Concern,

Re: Mr Trevor Kitcher
DOB: 1971-02-04
Address: 95 Melville Beach Road, APPLECROSS WA 6153

I am a gastroenterologist and have been involved in the care of Mr Trevor Kitcher since 2021.

Mr Kitcher has a history of chronic gastrointestinal symptoms, which on prior assessment have been considered most consistent with a functional gastrointestinal disorder. He has also been found to have focal gastric intestinal metaplasia on previous gastroscopy, for which ongoing surveillance has been recommended.

From a medical perspective, Mr Kitcher experiences persistent gastrointestinal symptoms which may fluctuate in severity. These symptoms can include abdominal discomfort and associated functional limitations, and may impact day-to-day functioning. As is typical with disorders of gut–brain interaction, symptom burden can vary and may affect an individual's capacity to consistently undertake usual activities, particularly during symptomatic periods.

Mr Kitcher advised me that he relocated to Western Australia and was involved in the care of his late mother, over a period of time . I am not in a position to independently verify the extent or duration of this caregiving role, as this has not been a primary focus of our clinical consultations. If you require further information please feel free to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

A/Prof Chamara Basnayake
Gastroenterologist
