FOCUS GASTROENTEROLOGY

Dr Travis Taggert
Ontario Family Practice

Dear Dr Taggert,

Re: Mr Mitchel Davison
DOB: 1997-01-24
Address: 159 Olive Avenue, MILDURA CENTRE PLAZA, VIC, 3501

Summary

- Clinical remission of ulcerative colitis on mesalazine maintenance therapy.
- Persistent fatigue despite normal thyroid function, iron stores, and B12 levels.
- Surveillance colonoscopy planned for late 2026 or early 2027 to assess mucosal healing.
- No action required by you.

I had the pleasure of conducting a review with Mitchel regarding his management of ulcerative colitis. Since our last consultation, he has successfully re-initiated his maintenance therapy after a period of non-compliance led to a symptomatic flare.

Mitchel reports a significant improvement in his bowel habit. He is currently experiencing solid bowel movements without the presence of blood or mucus. His weight has also largely stabilised; having previously lost five kilograms during his flare, he has successfully regained four kilograms. He tolerated the addition of budenofalk enemas well, which helped achieve this clinical improvement, and he is now predominantly relying on oral mesalazine granules.

We discussed his ongoing symptoms of fatigue. I have reviewed his recent biochemistry, which confirms that his thyroid function, Vitamin B12, and iron studies are all within normal limits. His previous faecal calprotectin was appropriately elevated, correlating with his symptomatic flare at the time. While we considered a short course of oral corticosteroids to address potential subclinical inflammation as a driver for his fatigue, we have decided to defer this for now given his excellent symptomatic response to 5-ASA therapy.

Impression and Plan

Mitchel will continue his current dose of oral mesalazine granules indefinitely. I have provided him with a script for mesalazine enemas to be kept on hand as a "rescue" therapy should he experience a recurrence of symptoms. If a flare occurs that does not respond promptly to topical therapy, I have asked him to contact my rooms early to consider a course of oral prednisolone.

I have requested repeat blood work and a faecal calprotectin in six months' time to monitor for subclinical inflammation. We will also look to schedule a surveillance colonoscopy late this year or early next year to formally assess for mucosal healing, as clinical symptoms do not always correlate with endoscopic remission. I will review him again in six months.

Yours sincerely,
